

Other oral health messages for little ones

Teething – it can help to give a teething baby something hard to chew on, such as a teething ring

Dummies can help to soothe and settle baby but often, using them for long periods of time, can become a habit. This may affect speech and the appearance of teeth.

Lift the lip - lift your child's lip every month and look for changes on their teeth. This could be early signs of tooth decay.

