

employable futures_

Mental health difficulties can affect the focus and effectiveness of apprentices. They may need time off work and struggle with their studies. Getting support can help them take back control.

The Access to Work Mental Health Support Service is funded by the Department for Work and Pensions meaning there is no charge to use this service.

_able futures

Department for Work & Pensions In partnership with

We can help you demonstrate your commitment to supporting your apprentices with mental health conditions in the workplace.

The programme provides you:

- _ Advice on supporting an apprentice with a mental health condition
- _ Education and a toolkit for you, your colleagues and your leadership team
- _ Internal promotion of an easy-to-use service for your apprentices.

Benefits for apprenticeship providers

Supporting the health and wellbeing of apprentices is good for your business.

The benefits can include:

- _ Less likelihood of apprentices leaving your scheme
- _ Improved apprentices' performance in work
- _ Improved apprentices' ability to complete their studies
- _ Decreased absenteeism
- _ Improved attendance
- _ Enhanced morale
- _ Better engagement.

Enjoy more good days, contact us today for more information:

Freephone 0800 321 3137
8am to 10.30pm
Monday to Friday

hello@able-futures.co.uk
www.able-futures.co.uk/apprenticeship-providers

Able Futures is led by Ingeus UK Ltd