

All About {insert child's name}

I like to.....

This is where you can describe a little about children's learning style or characteristics of effective learning. It also might be where you could describe independence skills the child does well.

I am a bit unsure about....

This is where you may be able to comment on some independence skills that may need developing.

What I know about the school/setting I am going to...

This may be where you share what transition preparation you have done with the child or where parents add detail.

Insert a photo of the child here

At home, I have been ...

This is where parents or settings may be able to comment on what children have been doing at home during the Covid-19 lockdowns. (if applicable) This may include how the Early Years Setting have supported the Home Learning Environment and what parents have shared with you.

Things that make me happy are....

This is where you can describe a little about children's learning style or characteristics of effective learning.

It is important for you to know that....

This is where you may wish to provide insight for any concerns with regards to the child. Or things that may become a concern when combined with transition. It could also be a place to describe things the child does well and can be built upon.

At my Early Years setting I have been....

This is where you may wish to comment on what children have been doing setting. You may wish to explain here if the child has missed a number of weeks/months due to lockdowns.

You can also comment if you have been supporting the child using WellComm. (Please add details of assessments showing what stage of language development the child is currently at.)